

J. Cody Jorgensen, Ph.D.
Curriculum Vitae
Assistant Professor
Department of Criminal Justice
Boise State University
1910 University Drive, Mail Stop 1955
Boise, Idaho 83725
(208) 426-6582

Contact Information

Email: codyjorgensen@boisestate.edu
Phone: 435-225-3582

Education

- 2014 Doctorate of Philosophy
 Criminology, University of Texas at Dallas
 Dissertation: Badges, bongos, bookies, and brothels: Police officers' attitudes toward vice.
 Chair: Dr. John Worrall
 Committee Members: Dr. Alex Piquero, Dr. Nicole Piquero, Dr. Robert Taylor
- 2011 Master of Science
 Criminology and Criminal Justice, Arizona State University
 Thesis: Public perceptions matter: A procedural justice study examining an arrestee sample.
- 2007 Bachelor of Science
 Forensic Science, Weber State University
 Cum Laude
- 2002 Bachelor of Science
 Anthropology, Weber State University

Experience

- 2015- Assistant Professor, Boise State University
- 2013-2015 Instructor/Adjunct Professor, University of Texas at Dallas
- 2012-2013 Teaching Assistant, University of Texas at Dallas

- 2011-2012 Research Assistant, Caruth Police Institute/University of Texas at Dallas
- 2010-2011 Survey Interviewer, The Center for Violence Prevention and Community Safety,
Arizona State University
- 2007 Intern, Weber County Crime Scene Unit

Current Research Interests

Biosocial and Developmental Criminology, Policing and Forensics, Drug Policy, Quantitative Methods

Peer Reviewed Works Published

- Walsh, A., and Jorgensen, C. (In Press) Criminology: The Essentials, 4th Ed. Sage, Thousand Oaks: CA.
- Walsh, A., Jorgensen, C., and Wells, J. (In Press) "Evolution and Punishment." Sage Handbook on Evolutionary Psychology, Thousand Oaks: CA.
- Jorgensen, C. (2018). "Badges and bongos: Police officers' attitudes toward drugs." Sage Open Oct. 2018.
- Jorgensen, C. (2018). "Badges and brothels: Police officers' attitudes toward prostitution." Frontiers in Sociology, 3:16.
- Walsh, A., and Jorgensen, C. (2018). "Evolutionary theory and criminology." Oxford Handbook on Evolution, Biology, and Society. Oxford:UK.
- Walsh, A., and Jorgensen, C. (2017). Criminology: The Essentials, 3rd Ed. Sage, Thousand Oaks: CA.
- Jorgensen, C., Anderson, N., and Barnes, J.C. (2016). "Bad brains: Crime and drug abuse through a neurocriminological perspective." American Journal of Criminal Justice, 41: 47-69.
- Barnes, J.C., Jorgensen, C., Pacheco, D., and Teneyck, M. (2014). "The biosocial explanation: The puzzling relationship between age and criminal behavior: A biosocial critique of the criminological status quo." In Beaver, K., Barnes, J.C., and Boutwell, B (Eds.), The Nurture versus Biosocial Debate in Criminology. Sage: Thousand Oaks, CA.

Barnes, J.C., Jorgensen, C., Boutwell, B., Beaver, K., and Wright, J. (2014). "Arrest prevalence in a national sample of adults: The role of gender and race." American Journal of Criminal Justice, 1-9.

Public Scholarship

Jorgensen, Cody. (2017). "Is marijuana really a gateway drug?" The Blue Review, Retrieved from: <http://thebluereview.org/gateway-drug/>

Works under Review

Jorgensen, C. and Wells, J. "A nationally representative test of the marijuana gateway hypothesis: A propensity score matching approach." Journal of Drug Policy Analysis.

Comer, B., Jorgensen, C., and Carter, D. "Reported crime frequencies: A statistical comparison of state annual crime reports and the UCR." Criminal Justice Policy Review.

Works in Progress

Wells, J., Jorgensen, C., and Comer, B. "MAOA, 5-HTTLPR, and alcohol use outcomes: A systematic review and meta-analysis of gene-environment interaction effects.

Jorgensen, C. "Assessing the effect of marijuana legalization in Colorado and Washington on crime related outcomes: A synthetic control approach.

Jorgensen, C., and Barnes, J.C. "The dopaminergic interaction effects on violence over the life-course."

Conference Presentations

2018 Academy of Criminal Justice Sciences Meeting: New Orleans, Louisiana.
Jorgensen, Cody. "A nationally representative test of the marijuana gateway hypothesis: A propensity score matching approach."

2016 Western Association of Criminal Justice Meeting: Las Vegas, Nevada.
Boise State University Roundtable: Working with local agencies.

2016 Academy of Criminal Justice Sciences Meeting: Denver, Colorado.
Jorgensen, C., Barnes, J.C., and Walsh, A. "The dopaminergic interaction effects on violence over the life-course."

2014 American Society of Criminology Meeting: San Francisco, California.
Jorgensen, Cody. "Give us all your (drug) money: The curious link between asset forfeiture and vice attitudes among police."

- 2014 Southwestern Association of Criminal Justice Meeting: South Padre Island, Tx.
Jorgensen, Cody. "Police officers' attitudes toward vice crime."
- 2013 Academy of Criminal Justice Sciences Meeting: Dallas, Texas.
Jorgensen, Cody. "Religiosity and squeaky clean behavior."
- 2012 American Society of Criminology Meeting: Chicago, Illinois.
Jorgensen, Cody. "Getting arrestees to cooperate with the police."
- 2012 Academy of Criminal Justice Sciences Meeting: New York City, New York.
Jorgensen, Cody. "Public perceptions matter: A procedural justice study examining an arrestee population."

Undergraduate Courses Taught

Introduction to Police
Communities and Crime
Police and Society
Police and Society (Online class)
Introduction to Crime and Criminology
Statistics
Senior Seminar in Biosocial Criminology (online class, Quality Matters certified)
Senior Seminar in Biosocial Criminology
Theories of Crime

Graduate Courses Taught

Law and Social Control
Theories of Crime
Statistics

Service to the Discipline

Peer Reviewer for Police Quarterly, Criminal Justice Studies, Criminal Justice Review, Journal of Experimental Criminology, Criminal Justice and Behavior, Police Practice and Research
Review Editor for Frontiers in Sociology: Evolutionary Sociology and Biosociology (2015-2019)

Service to the Institution

Boise State University School of Public Service Working Group on New Programs - 2016
Faculty Search Committee (two positions) - 2016
Faculty Advisor for Lambda Alpha Epsilon - 2016 to current
Graduate PAR Committee – 2017 to 2018

Undergraduate PAR Committee – 2018 to 2019
Online CJ Program Development Committee (feasibility) – Spring 2019
Online CJ Program Development Committee (design) – Fall 2019

Mentorship

Jesenia Robles – McNair Scholar Faculty Mentor 2016
Eva Fontaine – Thesis Committee 2016 to 2018
Stephen Keely – Project Chair 2017 to current
Benjamin Comer – Thesis Chair 2018 to 2019
Chris Lavelle – Project Committee 2018 to current Karen Armenta – Thesis Committee 2019 to current Kylene Collette – Thesis Committee 2019 to current

Media Interviews

December 2015, Boise State Public Radio
<http://boisestatepublicradio.org/post/numbers-crime-boises-recently-disbursed-homeless-camp>

January 2016, Boise State Public Radio
<http://boisestatepublicradio.org/post/pot-policy-forum-features-idaho-drug-tsar-and-others-and-against-legalization>

Invited Presentations

January 2016, Boise State Students for Sensible Drug Policy – Marijuana Policy Town Hall
April 2017, Boise State School of Public Service – Research on the Marijuana Gateway Effect
October 2018, Boise Hempfest – Cannabis Town Hall Expert Panel Member

Professional Affiliations

American Society of Criminology
Academy of Criminal Justice Sciences
Western Association of Criminal Justice
Biosocial Criminology Association
American Criminal Justice Association – Lambda Alpha Epsilon

References available upon request
Updated 4/24/2019