Instructions

Purpose: A directed research project involves research conducted by a graduate student under the supervision of a member of the graduate faculty and also requires: (1) a clear statement of a hypothesis or proposition, (2) a review of the relevant literature, (3) an analysis and synthesis data or scholarly evidence, and (4) inferences or conclusions. The results must be stated in a report written in clear and effective English and cannot be incorporated into the student's thesis or dissertation. Any student who has been admitted to the Graduate College is eligible to conduct a directed research project.

Procedure: The student is responsible for completing and signing the Application for Directed Research (ADR) form. Once signed by the Professor Directing the Research, Advisor, and Program Coordinator the ADR form should be sent to the Graduate College by the Program Coordinator. Once the ADR form is approved by the Graduate College, it is to be submitted to the Office of the Registrar for final processing by the posted deadline on the Academic Calendar found at <https://registrar.boisestate.edu/boise-state-academic-calendars/>.

Obtain Graduate Dean Signature: Boise State University, Graduate College, Riverfront Hall, Room 307 or email to gradcoll@boisestate.edu.

Deliver Completed Form: Boise State University, Office of the Registrar, Administration Building, Room 110, or email to rames@boisestate.edu.
